1.0 PREFACE

1. The East African Legislative Assembly is established under Article 9 of the Treaty for the Establishment of the East African Community (EAC) as one of the key organs and institutions of the Community.
2. Articles 50 and 51 of the EAC Treaty provides for Election of Members of the Assembly and the Tenure of Office of Elected Members respectively. Specifically, Article 51(1) provides that an elected member of the Assembly shall hold office for five years and is eligible for re-election for a further term of five years. The current Assembly was elected in 2012.
3. Additionally, section 4(1) and (2) of the East African Legislative Assembly Elections Act, 2011 provides that the election of Members to the Assembly shall be conducted in accordance with the rules of procedure of the Legislatures of the Partner States. The Act also requires that the elections ought to be conducted within ninety (90) days before the expiry of the date of the outgoing Assembly. Therefore, the meaning of “within 90 days” as stated in section 4 of the EALA Elections Act, 2011 means any date between 4th March and 3rd June, 2017. The Parliament of Kenya is therefore required to conduct the election of its members to EALA by 3rd June 2017.
4. The Clerk to the East African Legislative Assembly (EALA) has written to the Speakers of the Parliaments in the partner States requesting them to cause to be held the election of the members of the next Legislative Assembly in accordance with Article 50 of the Treaty for the Establishment of the East African Community and section 4(2) of the East African Legislative Assembly Elections Act, 2011. Article 50(1) provides as follows –
(1) The National Assembly of each Partner State shall elect, not from among its members, nine-members of the Assembly, who shall represent as much as it is feasible, the various political parties represented in the National assembly, shades of opinion, gender and other special interest groups in that Partner State, in accordance with such procedure as the National Assembly of each Partner State may determine.
5. By a Motion adopted by the National Assembly and the Senate on 1st and 2nd March 2017 respectively, the Houses of Parliament established a Joint Parliamentary Select Committee consisting of the following Members –

The National Assembly

- 1) The Hon. Katoo Ole Metito, MGH, EGH, M.P.

REVIEW OF THE PROCEDURE FOR THE ELECTION OF MEMBERS TO EALA

2.1 Procedure for Conduct of Elections

12. Taking into account the bicameral nature of the Kenyan Parliament, the Committee considered two possible options for conducting elections: joint voting versus separate voting by Houses of Parliament.

2.1.1 Option 1: Joint Voting

13. The Committee noted that for consonance, the election process be jointly undertaken by both Houses of Parliament, sitting as a single electoral college. The justification for a joint process is as follows:-

- i. Precedence: Parliament of Rwanda, the only other bicameral Legislature in East Africa, already set a precedent. Rwanda has been conducting the election of its Members to the EALA jointly, way before Kenya, which would be taking that route for its maiden time. As such, Kenya may draw vital lessons from the salient features of the procedure of Rwanda's joint voting and the success thereof;
- ii. Single Electoral College: The joint approach presents the unique opportunity for Parliament to collapse itself into a single electoral college, manned by Returning Officer, Presiding Officer and conducting the election at a single time;
- iii. Synchronized arrangements: A joint approach is beneficial in the sense that it allows a synchronized approach in terms of rules, logistics, timing and uniformity of the processes and activities constituting the election process;
- iv. Breaking ties: The option also favours Parliament in the sense that it hastens prompt breaking of a tie. The processes of tallying and communions between Houses would lengthen any process of breaking a tie among two or more candidates;
- v. Dispute resolution: In a joint approach, resolution of disputes is easier and uniformly applied by the Speakers of the two Houses (presiding officers). This is supported by the fact that there is no room for varied interpretation and application of rules of determination on questions that may arise, considering that it is done at once by the Presiding Officer(s). These include matters of eligibility and qualifications of candidates, among others, which may be addressed variedly were they to be raised and determined separately;

- vi. Representation quotas: since the election is expected to take into account relative majorities of the Coalitions in Parliament and representation of the youth, women and persons with disabilities, a joint approach would be less difficult to achieve representation quotas for each category. If the process is done separately, the election results, when combined may turn out to exclude one or more categories stated above;
- vii. Centrality: On the overall, a joint approach also allows for centrality of the entire process by eliminating unnecessary replication of similar processes in both Houses; and
- viii. Time-economical: Further, the joint approach is economical time on the other. It eliminates the processes of separate tallying and conveying of results between the Houses. A separate process may extend the elections to more than one sitting, or even a day;

2.1.2 Option 2: Separate Voting

14. The Committee also considered the option of each House of Parliament conducting elections separately, as two polling stations in a single election with the following justifications: -
- (i) Separate voting will retain the identity of each House;
 - (ii) The two Houses will be equivalent to two polling stations with the relevant Clerk of the House serving as the Presiding Officer and each Speaker serving as the Returning Officer.
15. The election slots are political party-based and as such, it is expected that political parties will have whipped its membership to vote for particular candidates and the results would be same in both houses.
16. The main disadvantage of separate voting is that it will consume more time and may require a dispute resolution mechanism in the event that the two Houses do not agree on the members to be voted.

2.2 Observations by the Committee on the Mode of Elections

17. In considering the holding of a separate voting the committee noted as follows –
- (i) Comparative analysis with other East African countries with a bicameral parliament, for example, Rwanda. It was noted that the EALA Treaty and the EALA Election Act set out the requirements to be met by the respective National Assemblies of the Partner States but left it to each Parliament to determine the procedure for election. It was therefore agreed that different Parliaments would adopt a procedure that they determined would be the best for the conduct of their respective elections, and hence, the Parliament of Kenya should adopt a procedure that it saw best to regulate its elections under the Treaty;

- (ii) On the legal implications of separate voting with two Houses of Parliament with different Standing Orders, the Committee considered the two options for conduct of elections i.e. joint voting with the two Houses of Parliament carrying out the voting as a single electoral college and separate voting, with each House of Parliament constituting a polling station. The Committee noted that the outcome of the elections would be the same as the total votes in both Houses with respect to each candidate would be tallied in order to determine the overall winner;
- (iii) On the legal status of political coalitions vis-à-vis Legal Notice on the EALA Elections Act, 2011, the Committee noted that the Treaty requires the elected members, to represent, among other thing and “as much as it is feasible, the various political parties represented in the National Assembly”. However, such representation should be based on the proportional representation of the parties in Parliament. Each party would therefore be required to nominate three times the number of candidates that the party may elect to EALA for the purpose of the election. The Committee agreed that it would be necessary to ensure that an opportunity is granted to other interested persons, not representing political parties to also contest in nomination process and the election to the EALA Parliament.
- (iv) On the place of independent candidates in the election process, the Committee noted that the Treaty required that Article 50 of the Treaty required that the election of contestants to EALA should have representation as much as it is feasible from “various political parties represented in the National Assembly, shades of opinion, gender and other special interest groups in that Partner State, in accordance with such procedure as the National Assembly of each Partner State may determine”. In Reference No. 7 of 2012, Antony Calist Komu versus The Attorney General of the United Republic of Tanzania, the East African Court of Justice, considered an application challenging the election of candidates to EALA by the National Assembly of Tanzania on the grounds that the elections violated Article 50 of the Treaty and in particular, that the categories of persons representing political parties did not distinguish the existence of the official opposition political party and other opposition political parties as categories which ought to have had representatives in EALA. In considering the application, the Court held as follows –

“[Under] Article 50(1), each category of representation should as much as feasible be a separate and distinct category from each other. To lump all categories under “any political party which is entitled to sponsor candidates” and then grant that one category the preserve to bring candidates for the other categories, so that ultimately every candidate and eventual representative would be affiliated to a political party, whether or not represented in the National Assembly, as opposed to say shades of opinion, gender and other special interest groups, would be a clear violation of Article 50(1) of the Treaty.”

2.3 Recommendations by the Committee

18. Following careful consideration, the Joint Committee recommended as follows:

- (i) THAT, the respective Houses conduct separate voting, held concurrently with each House acting as a polling station.
- (ii) THAT, the two Houses retain their distinct decision-making processes;
- (iii) THAT, a Gazette be prepared concurrently as the newspaper for the timelines to concur with the Legal Notice;
- (iv) THAT, the notices in both the Gazette and the Newspapers should indicate the requirements for elections and that each candidate must submit proof of qualification for election.

REVIEW OF THE RULES FOR ELECTION OF MEMBERS TO EALA

3.1 Introduction

19. The current Elections Rules which were adopted by the National Assembly in April 2012 and published in the Kenya Gazette through Legal Notice No. 31 of 11th May, 2012, were formulated in the context of a unicameral Parliament and does not therefore consider the bicameral nature of Kenya's Legislature under the Constitution. The Rules, therefore, require a review to conform to the bicameral nature of the Kenyan Parliament.

20. The need for the review of the rules for elections of EALA members arose from: -

- i. The need to conform to the Constitution, Standing Orders and the Treaty for the establishment of the East African Community.
- ii. Judicial Consideration at the East African Court of Justice in Arusha in a case challenging the nomination of nine nominees to EALA in 2006; and
- iii. The bicameral nature of Parliament.

2.2 Observations by the Committee

21. In its consideration of a review of the Rules for election of Members to EALA, the Committee was guided by the following: -

- i. The existing Rules published in 2012;
- ii. The Court ruling;
- iii. The Constitution of Kenya;
- iv. The Treaty for the Establishment of the EAC;
- v. The Standing Orders of the Houses of parliament;
- vi. Precedence in other jurisdictions; and
- vii. Election laws.

22. Following the decision by the Joint Committee to adopt the separate voting, the Committee considered the Rules and observed as follows:

- (i) Rule 2: Provide for definition of "Presiding Officer" and "Returning Officer" as follows:

"presiding officer" means the Clerk of the National Assembly and the Clerk of the Senate;

"returning officers" means the Speaker of the National Assembly and the Speaker of the Senate

- (ii) Rule 4: It was noted that the publication of the Gazette and the newspaper advertisement should be done on the same day;
- (iii) Rule 6: It was noted that the term “shades of opinion” as contained in the Treaty was not clear. It was however agreed that rather than set out how to measure shades of opinion, it be left as it was in the Rules and that the Committee would, during the vetting process, determine how to determine its variables;
- (iv) It was noted that the Joint Committee would be required to carry out the necessary vetting including ensuring that the candidates had been cleared by the relevant agencies for compliance and suitability in accordance with the Constitution and the relevant laws;
- (v) Sub-Rule (2) of Rule 12: Insert the words “in the respective House” immediately after the word “nominees” and immediately before the word “within”. It was also agreed that this sub-Rule appears towards the end of the Rule.
Re-number sub-Rule (2) to be sub-Rule (6);
- (vi) Rule 13: while it was noted that the candidates would be allowed to campaign, it was resolved that sub-Rule (2) and (3) be deleted as it was not necessary for the Committee to meet with the nominees after having vetted them under Rule 12;
- (vii) Rule 16: Provide for clarity such that a ballot shall remain valid if a voter elects less than the number of candidates allocated per Party.
- (viii) Rule 18: it should be clear that the results shall be recorded and read out to the respective Houses.

23. The Committee thereafter unanimously adopted the following Rules without amendments: -
Rule. 1, 3, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 17,19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26.

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

- 24. Pursuant to Article 118 of the Constitution, the Joint Committee, on Friday, 31st March, 2017, invited the public to submit memoranda in consideration of the Rules for election Members to EALA.
- 25. By close of business on Tuesday, 4th April, 2017, the Committee had received memorandum from a Mr. John Kubai M’Akwalu, resident of Tigania East Constituency, Meru County dated 21st March, 2017.
- 26. Mr. M’Akwalu, petitioned Parliament to, among others,;

- i. ensure that each political party submits a list of candidates of the members of the East African Legislative Assembly with five per cent (5%) of such members being distinctly disabled; and
- ii. allow independent candidates to apply and participate in the election of Members to EALA.

27. The Committee met on Wednesday, 5th April, 2017, and considered the memorandum and incorporated their views in the Draft Election Rules, 2017.

Dear Sir,

REF: ADVISORY ON THE REVIEW OF THE PROCEDURE AND RULES FOR ELECTION OF MEMBERS OF THE EALA

It has come to my attention that the National Assembly on 1st March 2017 and the Senate on 2nd March 2017 passed a motion to set up a joint select committee comprising both Members of Parliament and Senators for the aforementioned purpose.

The process of reviewing the Rules in a view to including the Senate in the broader definition of the words "National Assembly" as contained in the East African Community (Election of Members of the Assembly) Rules, 2012 and in pursuit of conformity of the Rules with the Kenyan Constitution, 2010 as debated and agreed in both Houses comes at a very appropriate time.

I wish to point out to the Committee that there is a need to ensure that the Rules adhere to the general principles for electoral systems in Kenya as set out in Article 81 of the Constitution. Also worth noting is Section 4 of East African Community (Election of Members of the Assembly) Rules, 2012 sets out the general principles for consideration by member states in election of their Representatives to the Assembly.

My Office would like the opportunity to review the Rules and Regulations in order to confirm their conformity to the Constitution and the EAC Treaty at the appropriate time. This will undoubtedly help to mitigate against any litigation matters that could arise locally and/or regionally over the election of Kenyan members to the EALA.

MIN/JCEALA/011/2017

CONSIDERATION OF THE EAST AFRICAN
LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS (ELECTION OF MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY) RULES, 2017

The Principal Legal Counsel took the Committee through the draft Rules for Election of Members to EALA. Reference was made to the following documents:

- a) Articles 50 and 51 of the Treaty for the establishment of the East African Community,
- b) Articles 2 and 99 of the Constitution of Kenya;
- c) Sections 22 and 24 of the Elections Act, 2011;
- d) The Standing Orders of the Senate; and
- e) The Standing Orders of the National Assembly.

The Committee proposed the following amendments to draft Rules: -

- a) Rule 2- Provide for definition of "^{Referring}Presiding Officer" who shall be the Speaker of each of the respective House of Parliament;
- b) Rule 4- it was noted that publication of the draft Rules in the Gazette and the newspaper advertisement should be done concurrently;
- c) Rule 6- it was noted that the term "shades of opinion" as contained in the Treaty ^{is} was not clear. It was however agreed that rather than set out how to measure shades of opinion, it be left as it was in the Rules and that the Committee would, during the vetting process, decide how to determine its variables;
- d) It was noted that the Joint Committee would be required to carry out the necessary vetting including ensuring that the candidates had been cleared by the relevant agencies such as KRA and EACC in order to determine whether they qualify for election in accordance with existing legislation;

e) Rule. 12 (2) -

Insert the words “in the respective House” immediately after the word “nominees” and immediately before the word “within”. It was also agreed that this sub-rule appears towards the end of the Rule.

Renumber sub-Rule (2) to be sub Rule (6);

- f) Rule 13- while it was noted that the candidates would be allowed to campaign, it was resolved that sub-Rules (2) and (3) be deleted as they were not necessary for the Committee to meet with the nominees after having vetted them under Rule 12;
- g) Rule 16- Provides for clarity such that a ballot shall remain valid if a voter elects less than the number of candidates allocated per Party; and
- h) Rule 18- it should be clear that the results shall be recorded and read out to the respective Houses.

MIN/JCEALA/012/2017

ADOPTION OF ELECTION RULES

The Committee considered and unanimously adopted the following Rules without amendments: - Rule. 1, 3, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14, 15, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26 after they were proposed and seconded by Hon. Florence Mutua, M.P. and Sen. Mvita Mshenga, M.P., respectively.

MIN/JCEALA/019/2017

CONSIDERATION OF MEMORANDA ON DRAFT EALA RULES

The Committee was informed that a Mr. John Kubai M'Akwalu, a resident of Tigania East Constituency, Meru County petitioned Parliament to, among others,

- i. ensure that each political party submits a list of candidates of the members of the East African Legislative Assembly with five per cent (5%) of such members being distinctly disabled; and
- ii. allow independent candidates to apply and participate in the election of Members to EALA.

The Committee met on Wednesday, 5th April, 2017, and considered the memorandum and incorporated their views in the Draft Election Rules, 2017.

On the place of independent candidates in the election process, the Committee noted that the Treaty required that Article 50 of the Treaty required that the election of contestants to EALA should have representation as much as it is feasible from "various political parties represented in the National Assembly, shades of opinion, gender and other special interest groups in that category the preserve to bring candidates for the other categories, so that ultimately every candidate and eventual representative would be affiliated to a political party, whether or not represented in the National Assembly, as opposed to say shades of opinion, gender and other special interest groups, would be a clear violation of Article 50(1) of the Treaty.”

MIN/JCEALA/020/2017 CONSIDERATION OF DRAFT EALA RULES

The Committee considered the amended draft rules and made further amendments as follows: -

Rule 2: Provide for definition of “Presiding Officer” and “Returning Officer” as follows:

- i. “presiding officer” means the Clerk of the National Assembly and the Clerk of the Senate;
- ii. “returning officers” means the Speaker of the National Assembly and the Speaker of the Senate

Rule 4 – Delete the word ‘special’ appearing before the word ‘gazette’

Rule 6- Delete the word KRA and EACC appearing immediately after the word ‘agencies’ and insert the following wording ‘to comply with the Constitution of Kenya and other relevant laws.

RE: PETITION TO THE SENATE CONCERNING [the representation of persons with disabilities]

I, the undersigned,

A Citizen of the Republic of Kenya, and a resident of [Tigania-east constituency of Meru county];

DRAW the attention of the Senate to the following:

1. The continued discrimination and marginalization of persons with disabilities.

1.1 THAT, discrimination starts from the political parties since the existing political parties give priority to non-disabled persons in most of their nominations/appointments.

1.2. THAT, since the reinstatement of the east African legislative assembly, no disabled person has ever been nominated to it by any political party.

1.3. THAT, no light has been shed on whether an interested individual can submit the application as a member of the east African legislative assembly independently without going through a political party.

2. The existing gaps in the law.

2.1. THAT, no legislation has been passed to give effect to section 54/2---100 of the constitution and show a clear procedure on how the country can go about the issues addressed in those sections.

2.2. THAT, the procedure of nominating representatives of persons with disabilities in elective posts is not well spelt out. In addition to that, Nominated leaders are too few and have no fund assigned to them, to help persons with disabilities.

3. Slow implementation of the existing laws/policies concerning the persons with disabilities.

3.1. That, the persons with disabilities act, cap. 133 of 2003 and its subsequent amendments has some of its sections not implemented up to this date. For example: section 10. "Special and non-formal education The Council shall work in consultation with the relevant agencies of Government to make provisions in all districts for an integrated system of special and non-formal education for persons with all forms of disabilities and the establishment where possible of Braille and recorded libraries for persons with visual disabilities." And section 30. "Legal system (1) The Attorney-General, on consultation with the Council and the Law Society of Kenya, shall make regulations providing for free legal services for persons with disabilities with respect to the following— (a) matters affecting the violation of the rights of persons with disabilities or the deprivation of their property; (b) cases involving capital punishment of persons with disabilities; and (c) such matters and cases as maybe prescribed in the regulations made by the Attorney-General. (2) The Chief Justice shall make rules providing for— (a) the exemption, for persons with disabilities, from the payment of fees in relation to matters or cases described in subsection (1); and (b) the provision, to persons with disabilities who attend court, of free sign language interpretation, Braille services and physical guide assistance. (3) Accused persons who are denied bail shall be entitled to be held in custody in facilities modified in accordance with regulations made by the Minister. (4) The Chief Justice shall endeavour to ensure that all suits involving persons with disabilities are disposed of expeditiously having due regard to the particular disability and suffering of such persons.”

4. THAT, none of these issues raised in this Petition is pending in any court of Law, Constitutional or any other legal body.

WHEREFORE, your humble petitioner pray that the Senate-

1. To ensure that each political party submits a list of candidates of the members of the East Africa legislative Assembly with the 5% of such members being distinctively disabled.
- X 2. The senate through the speaker to invoke standing order number (1) to alter the allocation of the slots of the Kenyan nominees to the institution mentioned in no.1 above so as to allow independent applicants who are not aligned to any political party since the constitution allows for the participation of independent candidates in political affairs.
3. To undertake the necessary legal amendments to provide for full representation of the persons with disabilities in all elective posts in line with section 54 and section 100 of the constitution of Kenya.
4. to amend the constitution and create special electoral units at all levels so as to facilitate the empowerment of disabled persons through their own elected leaders.
- X 5. to institute a powerful and standing commission to ensure the implementation of all the laws and motions passed by senate, national assembly and the 47 county assemblies.

Dated Tuesday, 21st march 2017.
