CHAIRPERSON'S FOREWORD

The Cabinet Secretary, Ministry of Industrialization, Trade and Enterprise Development submitted to the National Assembly a memorandum on the Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA) between Kenya, a member of East Africa Community of the one part and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland of the other part. The Memorandum was tabled in the House on 22nd December 2020. Subsequently, the Memoranda and text of the Agreement were committed to the Departmental Committee on Trade Industry and Cooperatives (hereinafter referred to as "the Committee") by the Speaker of the National Assembly for consideration on suitability for ratification.

The EPA between Kenya -UK was signed on 8th December 2020 and a grace period of 90 days was agreed upon to be the period within which the EPA should be ratified by both Parties.

In considering the EPA, the Committee held a total of five (5) sittings including a comprehensive briefing session that was undertaken by the Ministry of Industrialization, Trade and Enterprise Development.

Article 118 (1)(b) of the Constitution provides for the need for Public Participation and section 8(3) of the Treaty Making and Ratification Act of 2012, the Committee placed advertisements in two local dailies, (Daily Nation and the People daily) on 3rd February, 2021 requesting for submissions of memoranda on the subject matter. By close of business on 11th February 2021, which was the deadline for submission, three memoranda had so far been received and analyzed by the Committee; consequently the Committee proceeded to finalize the report on this subject matter.

The Committee is thankful to the Office of the Speaker and the Clerk of the National Assembly for the logistical and technical support accorded to it during its Sittings.

On behalf of the Committee, it is therefore my pleasant duty and privilege to lay the report on the consideration of the ratification of the Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA) between Kenya, a member of the East African Community, of the one part, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, of the other part Pursuant to Section 8(4) of the Treaty Making and Ratification Act, 2012 and Standing Order 199 of the National Assembly.

Hon. Adan Haji Ali, Member of Parliament

Chairperson, Departmental Committee on Trade, Industry and Cooperatives

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The purpose of this report by the Departmental Committee on Trade, Industry and Cooperatives is to consider the ratification of the Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA) between Kenya, a member of the East African Community, of the one part, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, of the other part for House approval.

Kenya has been accessing the UK free market under the Kenya-European Union (EU) Trade Agreement in which the UK was the greatest importer of Kenyan goods but the United Kingdom (UK) exited from the European Union (EU) on 31st January, 2020. According to the terms of the Withdrawal Agreement, the UK remained part of the EU customs union and EU Single Customs Territory until 31st December, 2020. The Withdrawal Agreement signed between the UK and the EU put in place a Transition Period within which countries continued to trade with the UK under the existing EU trading regime until 31st December, 2020.

Given that disruption of accessing the UK free market and free quotas with the expiry of the Transition Period was eminent, Kenya started an Economic Partnership negotiation with UK that gave birth to an EPA that was signed on 8th December, 2020. The EPA replicates most of the provisions of the EAC-EU-EPA that facilitates Duty-Free-Quota-Free access of exports from EAC countries to the European market.

The two countries had an MOU that the EPA has to be ratified within ninety days from the date of signing the Agreement: meaning that the instrument has to be deposited at the depositories on or before 8th March, 2021. This informs why the EPA was tabled in the House in a special sitting held in 22nd December, 2020 and a memorandum seeking for approval of the EPA ratification and subsequently the Speaker referred the same to the Departmental Committee on Trade Industry and Cooperatives for consideration.

Pursuant to Article 118 (1) (b) of the Constitution on provides that “Parliament shall facilitate public participation and involvement in the legislative and other business of Parliament and its committees” and Section 8(3) of the Treaty Making and Ratification Act of 2012, which provides that “the relevant parliamentary Committee shall, during its consideration of the Treaty, ensure public participation in the ratification process in accordance with laid down parliamentary procedures”. The Committee through the Clerk of the National Assembly placed advertisements in two local dailies, the Daily Nation and the People’s Daily on 11th February 2021, calling for submissions of memoranda on the subject matter. The Committee received memoranda from the Kenya Private Sector Alliance (KEPSA), Ms. Laura Naliaka a trade and economics specialist while the other memorandum was from Econews Africa.

The Committee considered whether the EPA meets the threshold for ratification pursuant to Section 8(3) of the Treaty Making and Ratification Act of 2012, and came up with recommendation contained in this report.

This report highlights the Kenya – UK relations in regard to historical links, business to business as well as good trade and investment performance. It also provides a brief on the process that led to the Kenya-UK EPA negotiations, the historical perspective of the EPA, the status of the EPA negotiations, Kenya’s position on the EPA, the ratification process including the aspect of public participation and highlights of elements contained in the EPA. The last section of the report presents the number of parties to the Agreement, the Committee's observations and recommendation.

The Committee recommends that the National Assembly approves the ratification of the Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA) between the Republic of Kenya, a member of the East African Community of the one part and The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland of the other Part.

2.0 CONSIDERATION OF THE ECONOMIC PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT (EPA) BETWEEN KENYA A MEMBER OF THE EAST AFRICAN COMMUNITY OF THE ONE PART AND UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND ON THE OTHER PART-

The Committee invited the Ministry of Industrialization, Trade and Enterprise development to apprise it on the EPA and a team led by Amb. John Weru the PS for Trade and Enterprise Development through written and oral submission informed the Committee as follows;

2.1 Background

- 5) Kenya – UK relations are underpinned by strong historical links, business to business as well as good trade and investment performance. Trade between the two countries has been fairly balanced. Kenya’s exports to UK in 2019 marginally declined from Kshs. 40.2 billion (USD 402 million) in 2018 to Kshs. 40.1 billion (USD 40.1 million) in 2019, while imports from the UK increased from Kshs. 31.6 billion (USD 316 million) to Kshs. 35.3 billion (USD 353 million) during the same period.
- 6) According to the Economic Survey Reports for the period 2016-2019, the balance of trade has been in favor of Kenya. Current provisional trade data from the Kenya National Bureau of Statistics (KNBS) up to August 2020 shows Kenya’s exports were valued at Kshs. 34.9 billion (USD 337.7 million), while imports are valued at Kshs. 18.9 billion (USD 185.2 million) at the average exchange rate of Kshs. 103 to 1 USD, and the trade balance of Kshs. 15.9 billion (USD 154.5 million) being in Kenya’s favor
- 7) Kenya has been accessing the EU and by extension, the UK market on duty free and quota free basis on temporary conditions given under the EU Market Access Regulation (MAR) 1528/2007. UK has consistently ranked in the top five export destinations of Kenya with an annual average value of Kshs. 39 billion for the last 5 years (2015-2019). The major export products are coffee, tea, edible vegetables, cut flowers and fruits. The UK is among top Kenya’s import sources with the following major imports; machinery, motor vehicles, pharmaceuticals, printed books and other paper products, electrical and electronic equipment.
- 8) The United Kingdom (UK) exited the European Union (EU) on 31st January 2020. According to the terms of the Withdrawal Agreement, the UK was to remain part of the EU customs union and EU Single Customs Territory until 31st December 2020.

2.2 Historical Perspective of the Kenya –UK Economic Partnership Agreement

- 9) Kenya has been accessing the EU and by extension, the UK market on duty free and quota free basis of successive Lome Conventions, the Cotonou Agreement and the temporary conditions given under the EU Market Access Regulation (MAR) 1528/2007. This arrangement was bound to be disrupted by the UK’s exit from the EU.
- 10) The United Kingdom formally exited the EU on 31st January, 2020. According to the terms of the Withdrawal Agreement, the UK remained part of the EU customs union and EU Single Customs Territory until 31st December, 2020.

- 11) The Withdrawal Agreement that was signed between the UK and the EU had put in place a transition period within which countries continued to trade with the UK under the existing EU trading regime until 31st December, 2020. This window provided Kenya an opportunity to secure long-term duty free and quota free market access to the UK beyond 2020 when EU regulations ceased to apply in the UK by negotiating a trade arrangement. Noting the possibility of disruption in trade on expiry of the transition period, the Parties agreed to start negotiations of a long-term trading arrangement.
- 12) This agreement is thus titled “The Economic Partnership Agreement between Kenya, a Member of the East African Community, of the one part and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, of the other part” and is based on the EAC-EU-EPA text which seeks to replicate the effects of EPA agreed and initiated by the EAC and EU. The agreement with the UK pays fidelity to the EAC Customs Union Protocol and provides accession by the other EAC Partner States when ready.

2.3 Status of Kenya- UK EPA negotiations

- 13) Kenya and the UK began the EPA negotiations on 25th August, 2020 and the same were concluded on 3rd November 2020, which culminated in the signing of the Agreement on 8th December 2020.
- 14) The EPA negotiations with the UK were concluded after several rounds of negotiations culminating with the signing of the Kenya-UK EPA on 8th December 2020. In this regard, parties are required to ratify the Agreement. To avoid any trade disruptions, the two parties signed a three-month transition mechanism in the form of a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with effect from 1st January, 2021. There is need for the parties to have ratified the agreement before expiry of the three-month transition mechanism period.
- 15) There were two possible approaches to negotiating the EPA which approaches included the regional approach and the bilateral approach, ultimately the bilateral approach is what was adopted by the Parties.
- 16) Regional Approach: The UK preferred this approach so as to secure the regional market at one go through one Agreement. Kenya was in concurrence with this approach because of her commitments at the EAC and securing extended cumulation on rules of origin with the EAC. Negotiations were to be conducted using the same approach as the EAC-EU EPA. Consultations took place at the EAC level but there was no consensus regarding commencement and conclusion of such an agreement within the timeframe of the transition period provided in the UK-EU withdrawal agreement. Therefore, this approach was not successful in the first instance.
- 17) Bilateral Approach: This approach was adopted by Kenya because of the fast approaching deadline of the Brexit transition period and the need to secure duty free and quota free market access of Kenya’s products to the UK. This approach was also premised on the past experience of the EAC-EU EPA, which has not entered into force due to reluctance by the other Partner States to sign and ratify. Article 37 (4) of the EAC Customs Union Protocol allows for partner states to separately conclude or amend a trade agreement with a foreign country provided the terms of such an agreement are not in conflict with the protocol. The approach provides for other EAC Partner States to accede to the Agreement if and when they are ready to do so.

- 18) The National Assembly is therefore required pursuant to Section 8 of the Treaty Making and Ratification Act, 2012 to approve for the ratification of the Agreement, which is ratification, should be done on or before 8th March 2021.

3.0 ANALYSIS OF THE KENYA-UK ECONOMIC PARTINERSHIP AGREEMENT

The EPA contains one hundred and forty-six (146) Articles that have been summarized as follows:-

3.1 Outline of the Agreement

- 19) Part I (Articles 1-4) of the Agreement provides for the scope of the agreement, objectives, the rendezvous clause of the agreement that allows parties to discuss particular issue at a later date and principles which seek to strengthen integration in EAC region, ensuring asymmetry in favor of the EAC Partner State(s) in liberalization of trade and in the application of trade- related measure and trade defence instruments. Allowing the EAC Partner State(s) to maintain regional preferences with other African countries and regions without an obligation to extend them to the UK; and contributing to enhance the production, supply and trading capacities of the EAC Partner State(s).
- 20) Part II (Articles 5-50) of the Agreement which contains VI different titles that include inter-alia customs trade in goods which provide for duty-free and quota free market access conditions for goods originating in EAC Partner States(s) into the UK Market on a secure, long-term and predictable basis. Custom duties and free movement of goods, non- tariff measures, customs cooperation and trade facilitation, sanitary and phytosanitary measures, standards, technical regulations and conformity assessment, and trade defence measures.
- 21) Part III (Articles 51- 56) of the Agreement is on fisheries and contains (III) different titles that provide for general provisions, marine fisheries and inland fisheries and aquaculture development.
- 22) Part IV (Articles 57-74) of the Agreement is on Agriculture and contains different titles that provide for scope and definitions, Domestic Policy measures,
- 23) Part V (Articles 75-102) of the agreement that provides for economic and development cooperation, this part contains X titles that include inter-alia infrastructure, agriculture, private sector development, fisheries, water and environment, sanitary and phytosanitary measures, technical barriers to trade, customs and trade facilitation and resource mobilization.
- 24) Part VI (Articles 103-108) of the Agreement provides for institutional provisions that include the EPA council, powers of the EPA Council, Committee of senior officials, powers of the Committee of Senior Officials, EPA Consultative Committee.
- 25) Part VII (Articles 109-127) of the Agreement provides for dispute avoidance and settlement and contains III titles that include dispute avoidance, dispute settlement, common provisions and general exceptions.
- 26) Part VIII (Articles 128-130) of the Agreement provides for General Exceptions, security exceptions and taxation.
- 27) Part IX (Articles 131-145) of the Agreement provides for general and final provisions

3.2 Salient Features in the EPA

- 28) Trade in goods: the scope of Trade in Goods is defined by the market access offer in the Kenya-UK EPA. This offer was left largely intact as in the EAC-EU EPA, with exception of the tuna derogation which was varied to be proportionate with the agreement between the two parties. It entails the following:
- 29) UK Offer to Kenya: The UK offered Kenya duty free quota free market access for all products with exception of arms and ammunition. Further, the UK offered an automatic derogation for 681 tonnes of tuna loins per year subject to a review as the need arises.
- 30) Kenya Offer to UK: The Kenya offer is as follows: Kenya has committed to progressively liberalize eighty-two point six (82.6%) of trade with the UK over a period of up to 25 years with a moratorium period of 7 years. Caution has been taken in taking up this liberalization by ensuring that the economy is shielded from any negative effects.
- a. Sixty-five point four (65.4%) of the trade that Kenya committed to liberalize, mainly raw materials and essential goods, are already zero rated under the EAC Common External Tariff, hence no impact to the economy.
 - b. Fourteen percent (14.6%) of the trade that Kenya committed to liberalize comprise intermediate products currently attracting CET rate of ten percent (10%). Rationale for liberalization of these products being enhanced competitiveness of industries that import such products from the UK.
 - c. Two point six (2.6%) of the trade that Kenya committed to liberalize, comprises of few finished products which attract CET rate of twenty-five (25%.) The rationale for offering these products for liberalization was: -That they are not strategic products as revealed by Kenya trade flows and therefore pose minimal threat to domestic industries.
 - d. The Infant industry clause in the EPA that allows Kenya to pick on any of the products under this category or under intermediate goods category and protect them from liberalization for a period of 15years.
- 31) Rules of Origin: Simplified Rules of Origin have been agreed with the UK that makes it easier for Kenya to export, into the UK market, a wide range of products. The negotiated flexibilities in the rules are supportive of agricultural and industrial development, laying emphasis on value addition for agricultural products. The agreed rules would achieve what successive Conventions (Lome and Cotonou) failed to achieve i.e. promote industrial development in Kenya. The flexibilities include single transformation for textiles products, cumulation with (sourcing raw materials from) other developing countries- hence promoting industrialisation in Kenya.
- 32) Customs and Trade Facilitation: The EPA has provided for an enabling customs and trade facilitation environment aimed at ensuring easy access of Kenya's products into the UK market. This is to be realized through a commitment by the Parties to reinforce cooperation in the Customs and Trade facilitation area, particularly with regard to relevant legislation and procedures, administrative capacity of the relevant customs administrations and information sharing in order to meet the set objectives. The Parties agreed to accord the East Africa partner state flexibilities in terms of transitional periods and capacity building to smoothly implement the foreseen commitments on customs and trade facilitation.

- 33) Trade Defence Measures: The agreement provides for Trade defence measures, such as Safeguards, Antidumping and countervailing measures to take care of import surges and subsidised imports. This is an important tool for Kenya to use in protecting the domestic industry and agriculture Measures to mitigate any negative effects arising from EPA
- 34) The EPA has inbuilt measures that are aimed to cushion each Party from negative effects that may arise. This include:-
- a. The exclusion list is one of the inbuilt mitigation measures in the Agreement, where products that Kenya considers strategic and sensitive have been excluded. This includes products such as cereals, dairy products, fisheries products among others.
 - b. Long phased in period: 15 years for the intermediate and 25 years for finished products that Kenya has committed to liberalize. This allows the industries likely to be negatively affected to build capacity through Economic Development Cooperation support that is inbuilt in the Agreement with the UK (Annex II B & Annex II C)
 - c. Infant Industry Clause: which allows Kenya to protect infant industries likely to be negatively affected by zero rated UK products for a maximum of 15 years. (Article 50 (4b)).
 - d. Trade Remedies Provisions-Safeguards, Countervailing Measures and Anti-dumping: The Agreement provides for trade remedies to safeguard against unfair trade practices which lead to market distortion. This takes care of situations where there is unforeseen influx of imports and subsidised products from the UK. These measures are over and above the other protection measures such as exclusion from liberalisation of agricultural and strategic products and longer transition periods (Article 48, 49 & 50).
 - e. Amendment Clause: The EPA contains an amendment clause which provides flexibility to the Parties to seek for amendments on any provisions, including tariff liberalisation schedules, when need arises (Article 142).
 - f. Mandatory 5 Year Review Clause: The agreement provides for a comprehensive mandatory review of the entire agreement every 5 years. This will address the challenges that may arise during implementation of the Agreement or in response to change in dynamics (Article 141).
 - g. Exit clause: The Agreement provides for flexibility to the Parties to exit upon giving a one year written notice; and (Article 139).
- 35) Sector for products which are not excluded from liberalisation.
- 36) Fisheries: The chapter on fisheries which covers marine and inland fisheries provides a framework of cooperation in conservation, management and exploitation of marine fisheries resources. The framework also provides a chance where Kenya can conclude a bilateral fisheries agreement with the UK on fisheries, as a strategy towards exploitation of the marine fisheries resources.

- 37) Economic and Development Cooperation: The agreement contains a comprehensive development cooperation chapter in which the UK commits to collaborate towards the resources required for development.
- 38) Sanitary and Phytosanitary (SPS) and Technical Barriers to Trade (TBT) Measures: The EPA has provided a robust framework of cooperation between Kenya and the UK on SPS and TBT measures. The primary goal is to ensure transparency and objectivity in SPS and TBT measures in order to safeguard against introduction of ad hoc requirements that frustrate exports.
- 39) Agriculture: The EPA provides for cooperation between Kenya and the UK on agriculture development geared towards addressing challenges faced in agricultural sector. Under this chapter the EPA provides a guide on how to deal with subsidised agricultural products destined for Kenya's market. The UK committed not to grant export subsidies on products destined for the Kenya market on duty free basis. The agreement further provides for a Comprehensive Dialogue forum where any serious challenges faced by either Party in the implementation of the agreement will be discussed with a view to resolve them.
- 40) Institutional Arrangement, Final Provisions and Dispute Settlement: The agreement provides for the establishment of the requisite institutional structures to facilitate the implementation of the agreement. The structures established include EPA Council, Committee of Senior Officials, and Consultative Committee, among others. The Parties also agreed on Dispute Settlement mechanism aimed at avoidance of disputes and settlement of any dispute between the Parties concerning the interpretation and application of this Agreement. Final provisions are also agreed detailing aspects such as entry into force, provisional application, amendment and review mechanism and life span of the agreement among others.
- 41) Areas of Future Negotiations/Rendezvous clause: The following are areas of future negotiations as agreed by both Parties; Trade in services; Trade related issues namely (Competition policy; Investment and private sector development; Trade, environment and sustainable development; Intellectual property rights; Transparency in public procurement, and; any other areas that the Parties may agree upon.
- 42) The number of states that are party to the EPAs: The number of states that are members to the Kenya-UK EPA are currently two; The Republic of Kenya, a member of the East African Community, of the one part, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, of the other part. The Agreement has the provision for allowing other EAC member states to accede to it when they are ready.
- 43) Reservations: The EPA does not permit reservations or declarations during ratification. The agreement as it stands is complete with all its provisions having been agreed by the Parties.

4.0 PUBLIC PARTICIPATION AND STAKEHOLDERS ENGAGEMENT

44) Article 118 (1)(b) of the Constitution provides that “Parliament shall facilitate public participation and involvement in the legislative and other business of Parliament and its committees and Section 8(3) of the Treaty Making and Ratification Act of 2012, provides that the relevant parliamentary Committee shall, during its consideration of the Treaty, ensure public participation in the ratification process in accordance with laid down parliamentary procedures.

45) Consequently, despite the Ministry for Industrialization, Trade and Enterprise Development demonstrating that they carried adequate Public Participation while developing the EPA, the Committee through the Clerk of the National Assembly placed advertisements in two local dailies; Nation and People Daily, on 11th February 2020, calling for submissions of memoranda on the subject matter.

46) The Committee received three sets of written submissions on the Agreement from the Kenya Private Sector Alliance (KEPSA), one Laura Naliaka, a specialist in trade and economic affairs and from an entity known as Econews Africa.

4.1 Kenya Private Sector Alliance (KEPSA)

47) The KEPSA in expressing its support for the Economic Partnership Agreement stated in its submissions that it was of the view that the EPA provided an opportunity for Kenyan’s in the agricultural sector to be able to expand their businesses and also invest in the sector that was bound to yield more returns to them. The stakeholder felt that this was Agreement was bound to inspire certainty in business in the Nation.

4.2 Ms. Laura Naliaka

48) Ms. Laura Naliaka the specialist in trade and economic affairs opined that the re-imposition of Most Favoured Nations (MFN) tariffs on trade between the UK and the EU could result to less trade between the two countries. The highest MFN tariffs reside in the agricultural products, a sector in which Kenya enjoys comparative advantage. Hence, Kenya could potentially fill the gap resulting from reduced trade between UK and EU by increasing its exports to the UK, under a framework such as the EPA which is currently being negotiated.

49) Ms. Laura Naliaka in her submissions further stated that Kenya was not a least developed country hence it was not eligible for the duty-free exports to the EU under Everything but the Arms agreement that the other EAC states enjoy. She averred that EAC (including Kenya) exports to the UK would expand principally in the grains and crop sector. She specifically opined that Brexit would entail an increase in EAC exports to the UK of around USD 115 million.

50) Ms. Laura Naliaka stated in her submissions that the very large subsidies from the EU that farmers received made it extremely difficult for African agricultural produce to enter the European market and was of the view that the scope for this matter was one of the aspects that would be renegotiated by Kenya and UK which had ceased to be part of the EU, and this in her view was bound to benefit the local producers in Kenya.

4.3 Econews Africa

- 51) Econews Africa the third stakeholder sought to ascertain on the aspect of the Rules of Origin whether Kenyan produce transiting via the EU with no or limited value addition would be allowed to enter duty free into the UK, and which procedures and documentation would be required for the goods in transit.
- 52) Econews in its submission sought to know whether Kenyan products meeting EU standards would be admitted into the UK as well as the Scope of the trade agreement, what would the scope of this agreement be and the implications that the EPA would have on key sectors such as agriculture and manufacturing in Kenya. The stakeholder sought to establish any implications for regional integration and whether UK products would come into the country via Mombasa and find their way into other EAC Member States.
- 53) On the ratification process, Econews Africa submitted that the ratification process was flawed as the Government had already signed the agreement with the UK and the same was brought to parliament for 'ratification' as a rubberstamping process. They were of the view that Parliament ought to have been involved in the approval process from the onset of the negotiations to the culmination of the process.
- 54) Econews Africa challenged the process of ratification of agreements carried out in Kenya and contrasted the same with what was the practice in the United Kingdom, where the negotiations were said to be transparent and there was involvement of Parliament, the devolved administrations and legislatures, local government, business, trade unions, civil society, and the public from every part of the United Kingdom must be accorded an opportunity to engage with and contribute to the trade policy and sought to have Kenya to involve the stakeholders including Parliament in the processes culminating in the formulation of the agreement.

5.0 COMMITTEE OBSERVATIONS

The Committee having considered the Agreement observed as follows, THAT:-

- 55) Constitutional Implication: The EPA is not in conflict with any provisions of Kenya's the Constitution. It is consistent with its values, objectives and various statutes enacted to implement it.

Upon ratification, the Agreement shall bind the Government of Kenya.
- 57) Administrative Obligations: Kenya and the UK are required to set up an EPA Council to steer the implementation of the EPA. The Kenyan representative in the Council will be the Cabinet Secretary responsible for Trade.
- 58) Financial Obligations: Financial resources are required to finalize the activities leading to the ratification and implementation of the Agreement. Other Activities to be undertaken include the sensitization of the key stakeholders, in particular; Principal Secretaries; Chief Executive Officers (CEOs) of various public and private organizations; Non State Actors (Private Sector & Civil Society); and Targeted/specific sectors such as Agriculture, Fisheries.

This is an important tool for Kenya to use in protecting the domestic industry and agriculture sector for products which are not excluded from liberalisation. The agreement is based on the EAC-EU-EPA text and seeks to replicate the effects of EPA agreed and initialled by the EAC and EU.
- 62) The EPA secures and maintains the UK market for Kenyan goods. It provides full duty free and quota free market access conditions for goods originating from Kenya being a member of EAC into the market of the UK on a secure, long term and predictable basis in accordance with the modalities laid down in the Agreement.
- 63) Compliance: The EPA meets the threshold for approval for the ratification of a treaty pursuant to the provisions of section 8 of the Treaty Making and Ratification Act 2012.

1.0 OBJECTIVES OF THE MEMORANDUM

The objectives of the Memorandum are to:

- a) Appraise Parliament of the progress of the negotiations of the Kenya-UK Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA).
- b) Request the Parliament to approve the ratification of the Kenya-UK EPA.

2.0 BACKGROUND OF THE ECONOMIC PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT

- 2.1 The United Kingdom (UK) exited the European Union (EU) on 31st January 2020. According to the terms of the Withdrawal Agreement, the UK will remain part of the EU customs union and EU Single Customs Territory until 31st December 2020.
- 2.2 Kenya has been accessing the EU and, by extension, the UK market on a duty-free and quota-free basis on temporary conditions given under the EU Market Access Regulation (MAR) 1528/2007. The UK has consistently ranked in the top five export destinations with an annual average value of Ksh 39 billion for the last five years (2015-2019). The major export products are coffee, tea, edible vegetables, cut flowers, and fruits. The UK is among top Kenya's import sources with the following significant imports; machinery, motor vehicles, pharmaceuticals, printed books and other paper products, and electrical and electronic equipment.
- 2.3 The Kenya-UK Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA) negotiations begun in August 2020. The negotiations were based on the EAC-EU EPA text.
- 2.4 Kenya adopted a two-pronged approach in negotiating the EPA: -

SECRET

- a) Regional Approach: The UK preferred this approach to secure the regional market at one go through one Agreement. Negotiations were to be conducted using the same approach as the EAC-EU EPA.

 - b) Bilateral Approach: Kenya adopted this approach because of the Brexit transition period's fast-approaching deadline and the need to secure duty-free and quota-free market access to the UK. This was also amplified by the past experience of the EAC-EU EPA, which has not entered into force due to reluctance by the other EAC Partner States to sign and ratify. This approach allows the other EAC Partner States to accede to the Agreement if and when they are ready.
- 2.5 Article 37 of the EAC Customs Union Protocol allows Partner States to separately conclude or amend a trade agreement with a foreign country provided that the terms of such an arrangement are not in conflict with the protocol.
- 2.6 The Kenya-UK EPA negotiations were concluded after several rounds of negotiations culminating in the initialing of the text on 3rd November 2020. The process of legal scrubbing to clear the text for signature and ratification has been concluded.
- 2.7 The Agreement will enter into force when the two parties deposit the instruments of ratification. However, the Agreement can be implemented provided Kenya has deposited her instrument of ratification since the UK can provisionally implement the Agreement.
- 2.8 It is imperative that Kenya ratifies the Kenya-UK EPA in good time to allow notification of the ratification to the UK by 31st December 2020 to facilitate continued market access of

Kenyan products to the UK and subsequently avoid trade disruption.

3.0 THE PROCESS OF EPA NEGOTIATIONS

- 3.1 Kenya and the UK began negotiations in August 2020. A Secretariat, domiciled at the Ministry of Industrialization, Trade and Enterprise Development, was established to coordinate the activities leading up to the conclusion of the Kenya-UK trade negotiations.
- 3.2 On 25th and 26th August, 2020, Kenya and the UK began the first round of the negotiations virtually. Subsequently, several virtual rounds of negotiations have been held on various dates between August and November 2020.

4.0 OBJECTIVES OF THE KENYA-UK EPA

- 4.1 The EPA's overall objectives are to ensure sustainable development of Kenya and the other EAC Partner States; smooth and gradual integration into the global economy; and eradication of poverty.

The agreement seeks to:

- a) contribute to economic growth and development through the establishment of a strengthened and strategic trade and development partnership consistent with the objective of sustainable development;
- b) promote regional integration, economic cooperation and good governance;
- c) promote the gradual integration of Kenya and other EAC member states into the world economy, in conformity with its political choices and development priorities;

- d) foster the structural transformation of Kenya and other EAC economies, and their diversification and competitiveness by enhancing their production, supply and trading capacity;
- e) improve Kenya and other EAC Partner States capacity in trade policy and trade-related issues; and
- f) establish and implement an effective, predictable and transparent regional regulatory framework for trade and investment in Kenya and other EAC Partner States, thus supporting the conditions for increasing investment, and private sector initiative.

4.2 The significance of the EAC/Kenya-UK EPA to Kenya's economy is underscored by the importance of the UK market to Kenya's economy. This importance is illustrated by Kenya's exports to the UK, where the UK accounted for an average of 31% of all Kenya's exports to the EU market of 28 countries. At this level, the UK has been the second most important destination market for Kenyan products in the EU after the Netherlands, with exports averaging KES 39 billion between 2015 - 2019.

4.3 Analysis of the UK market potential for products that have been earmarked¹ for driving Kenya's National Export Agenda reveals great opportunity that can only be exploited through assured market access arrangement that is now provided by the EAC/Kenya-UK EPA. The market potential that awaits Kenya's exploitation is estimated at USD205 billion against Kenya's current level of exports, which stands at 0.2% of the total UK market size. The Government, through the National Export

Development Agenda, is aiming at enhancing Kenya's market share in the UK by 5% by 2025, which will translate to USD10.2billion or KES1.1trillion up from the current level of exports to the UK which as mentioned above stood at KES39billion (refer Annex 1 for sectoral export potential in the UK). The EAC/Kenya-UK EPA will be instrumental in delivering the projected export growth.

- 4.4 In view of this, Kenya stands to gain substantially from the Agreement by securing the UK Market for Kenyan goods and the opportunity for the country to exploit the huge export potential for priority agricultural, manufactured, fisheries, and livestock products, as well as handicraft and value-added mineral products.

5.0 THE SCOPE

- 5.1 The agreement, which is essentially a trade in goods agreement, covers the following:
- a) General Provisions
 - b) Trade in Goods
 - c) Fisheries
 - d) Agriculture
 - e) Economic and Development Cooperation
 - f) Institutional Provisions
 - g) Dispute Avoidance and Settlement
 - h) General Exceptions
 - i) General and Final Provisions
 - j) Annexes and Protocols to the above

6.0 HIGHLIGHTS OF PROTECTION OF NATIONAL INTERESTS IN THE EPA BETWEEN KENYA AND THE UK

6.1 Kenya stands to gain from signing and ratifying the Agreement to secure and maintain the UK Market for Kenyan Goods.

6.2 This will be achieved through:

a) Duty-free and quota-free market access to the UK: The Agreement offers Kenya duty-free and quota-free market access for all products, including manufactured/processed products;

b) Rules of Origin: Simplified Rules of Origin have been agreed with the UK, making it easier for Kenya to export, into the UK market, a wide range of products. The negotiated flexibilities in the rules support agricultural and industrial development, emphasizing value addition for agricultural products.

The agreed rules would achieve what successive Conventions (Lome and Cotonou) failed to achieve, i.e., promote industrial development in Kenya. The flexibilities include single transformation for textiles products, cumulation with (sourcing raw materials from) other developing countries- hence promoting industrialization in Kenya;

c) Opening up of new areas for exports: Maintain the secured market for industrial products under the UK EPA framework, which were restricted in the previous regime due to high tariffs and tariff escalation in the EU market;

d) Negotiated understanding/platform to discuss and resolve UK standards and SPS measures (Industrial and health standards) that have continued to constrain Kenya's exports to the UK;

- e) Platform to address supply-side constraints that hamper Kenya's ability to exploit UK market access opportunities, through the commitments to support the infrastructural and non-infrastructural development program/projects through the Framework for the UK -Kenya Strategic Partnership 2020-2025 and other UK institutions such as DFID;
- f) Secure investments and jobs in the Horticulture, Fisheries, Chemical and other related sectors. Ratification of the EPA will save the country from losing employment of the youth and women, who are the majority of the labour force in enterprises producing for the UK market. An estimated 4 million people will have their jobs and livelihoods protected if EPA is ratified.
- g) Limited market opening for UK products: Kenya is offering to open 82.6% value of total trade to the UK over an extended transition period (up to 25 years with a seven (7) year moratorium) constituting of mainly raw materials, capital goods, intermediate products and all other essential goods. The prolonged transition period protects infant industries. This was aimed at safeguarding agriculture, industry and Kenya's market interest in the region. Therefore, the exclusion list is the means by which the Government addresses the welfare loss and threats posed by EPAs on Agriculture and Industry. The products in the exclusion list include agricultural and industrial products; and
- h) Integrating marine and inland fisheries in EPAs. The Agreement provides for a basis for negotiating a Fisheries Partnership Agreement (FPA) with the UK. The FPA would unlock the enormous potential that exists in the Kenya marine fisheries.

7.0 EPA INBUILT MEASURES TO MITIGATE THE THREAT TO KENYA'S REGIONAL AND DOMESTIC MARKET FROM UK IMPORTS

7.1 The inbuilt measures to mitigate the threat to Kenya's regional and domestic market from UK imports include;

- a) Trade Remedies Provisions- Safeguards, Countervailing Measures and Anti-dumping: The Agreement provides for trade remedies to safeguard against unfair trade practices which lead to market distortion. This takes care of situations where there is an unforeseen influx of imports and subsidized products from the UK. These measures are over and above the other protection measures, such as exclusion from the liberalisation of agricultural and strategic products and longer transition periods.
- b) Amendment Clause: The EPA contains an amendment clause that provides flexibility to the Parties to seek amendments on any provisions, including tariff liberalization schedules, when the need arises.
- c) Mandatory 5 Year Review Clause: The Agreement provides for a comprehensive mandatory review of the entire Agreement after every 5 years. This will address the challenges that may arise during the implementation of the Agreement, or in response to changes in trade dynamics.
- d) Exit clause: The Agreement provides for flexibility to the Parties to exit upon giving a one-year written notice; and
- e) Relations with other EAC Partner States: The Agreement allows for accession by the other EAC Partner States.

8.0 IMPLICATIONS ON MATTERS RELATING TO COUNTIES

8.1 Kenya's major exports to the UK are sourced from different counties; therefore, the EPA opens trade opportunities for Counties by providing a prime market for these products. The UK's huge market potential is a real economic stimulant for Counties, which are expected to take advantage of this market by initiating programs that expose County trade sectors to the UK market opportunities.

9.0 POLICY AND LEGISLATIVE CONSIDERATIONS

9.1 The Government has already anchored the EPA and all other trade agreements in the National Trade Policy and the Integrated National Exports Development and Promotion Strategy.

10.0 REQUIREMENTS FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF THE EPA

10.1 Kenya and the UK are required to set up an EPA Council to steer the implementation of the EPA. The Kenyan representative in the Council will be the Cabinet Secretary responsible for Trade.

11.0 FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

11.1 Financial resources are required to ensure full implementation of the Agreement to enable the country realize the objectives. Such resources will be budgeted for in the annual budgets of the responsible State Departments and agencies. Each County will also be expected to budget for the respective activities leading to the realization of the objectives of the Agreement.

11.2 The Ministry is in the process of rolling out a sensitization program, to the various stakeholders at the National and County levels on the opportunities arising from this Agreement.

12.0 MINISTERIAL RESPONSIBILITY

12.1 The EPA is to be implemented under the coordination of the Ministry of Industrialization, Trade and Enterprise Development. Focal areas such as agriculture, fisheries, economic cooperation and development will be led by responsible Cabinet Secretaries.

13.0 APPROVAL AND SIGNATURE

13.1 The Cabinet gave approval for signature on 2nd December and Kenya-UK EPA was signed on 8th December, 2020 in London, UK by the respective Ministers with responsibilities for Trade.

14.0 PARTIES TO THE AGREEMENT

14.1 Parties to this Agreement are Kenya, A member of the East African Community, and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. There is room for other EAC Partner States to accede to the Agreement.

15.0 STAKEHOLDER CONSULTATIONS

15.1 The Kenya-UK EPA negotiations elicited overwhelming interest from the private sector, especially exporters to the UK due to the UK market's importance. The stakeholders urged the Government to move with alacrity to conclude the agreement that provides predictable trading terms between the countries in view of Brexit.

15.2 The Ministry is in the process of rolling out sensitization programs to various stakeholders at the National and County levels on the opportunities arising from this Agreement.

16.0 RESERVATIONS

16.1 The EPA does not permit reservations or declarations during ratification. The Agreement as it stands is complete with all its provisions having been agreed by the Parties.

5. The Parties agree to take appropriate measures where an increase in effort results in catch levels above the target sustainable level established by the competent national authority.

- (c) The UK and the EAC Partner State(s) shall have the right of placing observers, whether in national or international waters, with the procedures concerning the deployment of observers being well stipulated. Observers are to be paid by the national governments but all costs on board are to be met by the ship-owner. The UK may support the costs of training observers.
- (d) Common systems of reporting of fishing will be developed and used throughout the region, with minimum terms set for reporting.
- (e) All vessels that land or tranship their catch within an EAC Partner State shall do so in ports or outer-port areas. No transhipment shall be allowed at sea, except on particular conditions foreseen by the relevant Regional Fisheries Management Organisation (RFMO). The Parties shall cooperate to develop and modernise landing or transhipment infrastructure in ports of the EAC Partner State(s), including development capacity of fish products.
- (f) Discards reporting shall be compulsory. Priority should be given to avoiding discards through the use of selective fishing methods in line with principles of the IOTC and relevant regional fisheries organisations. As far as possible, by-catch shall be brought ashore.

Dear Mr. Sialai,

RE: ECONOMIC PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT BETWEEN KENYA AND THE UNITED KINGDOM OF GREAT BRITAIN & NORTHERN IRELAND

Receive warm greetings from the Kenya Private Sector Alliance (KEPSA).

We write to you in response to your invitation to the public to make submissions on the UK-KE Economic Partnership Agreement, and hereby register our support to the same.

We are cognizant that the bulk of trade between the UK and Kenya is horticulture/agriculture based, and further that the agriculture sector is the mainstay of Kenya's economy, contributing 29.3% to the Gross Domestic Product (GDP) and accounting for 80% of national employment.

The EPA provides us with an opportunity to expand and invest more in our agricultural sector, and inspires certainty in business, especially during these times when businesses have faced massive disruptions due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

We remain hopeful that the agreement will be ratified as soon as possible to enable businesses to start enjoying the benefits of the economic partnership between the two countries.

We also continue to appreciate the support and cordial relationship between the National Assembly and KEPSA throughout the years.

Yours Sincerely,

*Carole Kariuki Karuga, MBS, HSC

Mr. Michael R. Sialai
Clerk of the National Assembly
Parliament Buildings,
P.O. Box 41842-00100
Nairobi

Dear Mr. Sialai,

RE: ECONOMIC PARTNESHIP AGREEMENT BETWEEN REPUBLIC OF KENYA AND THE UNITED KINGDOM.

Fresh Produce Exporters Association of Kenya (FPEAK), Fresh Produce Consortium of Kenya (FPC Kenya) and Kenya Flower Council (KFC), being representatives of the horticulture industry hereby write to fully support the Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA) between the Republic of Kenya and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

Horticulture exports earned Kenya Sh 151 billion in 2020, Sh144 billion in 2019 and Sh 153 billion in 2018. The United Kingdom remain among the most important destinations for Kenya's Fresh Produce as it accounts for over 30 % of all fresh produce exports from Kenya. On average, UK imports about 21,000 tonnes (13 %) of flowers, 8,000 tonnes (9 %) of fruits and 35,000 tonnes (43 %) of vegetables from Kenya annually.

The EPA provides for quota free, duty free entry of all products from Kenya. This provision is very important for continued business for the horticulture industry in Kenya.

We therefore fully support the agreement as is currently done.

Yours Sincerely,

Hosea Machuki
Chief Executive Officer
